BLOODY RECORD IN TENDERLOIN

Good Citizens Can Only Applaud Work of Sheriff

IS A CESSPOOL OF CRIME

There the Worst Classes Meet to Lay Plots and There Path to Ruin Begins and Ends.

The work of Sheriff Emery and his deputies in ceaning out the murder breeding dens of vice on Commercial street and Victoria alley is meeting with much commendation from citizens of all classes of political and religious faith who love law, order and decency, despite the slurring remarks about the officers of the law being a "purity gang," etc.

When one takes the records for a When one takes the records for a few years back and looks over them up to date, and contemplates the vile crimes that have been committed on Commercial street, and reviews the lawless acts which have been committed in other parts of the city but were hatched in dens of infamy, the conclusion is forced upon one that it is high time that something be done to clean out the human parasites.

To say that the police department was not inactive is a joke. Women of the town, colored female pickpockets and murderous thieves and the army and murderous theves and the army of loafers who did nothing but gamble, steal, smoke opium and live from the wages of sin of fallen women, were practically protected. Other cities ran the crooks out of town and many of them flocked here where their votes were appreciated by the "Americans."

SHERIFF SUPPORTED.

The sheriff is receiving the support

The sheriff is receiving the support of all good citizens for the work he has undertaken in ridding the city of the criminal element, and especially the negro crooks.

The nurders, attempted murders, rebberies and other crimes which can be traced directly to denizens of Commercial street and other vice breeding localities, are simply appalling.

RECORD OF CRIME.

On Sept. 11, 1900, two desperadoes On Sept. 11, 1900, two desperadoes, King and Lynch, entered the Green Light gambling hell on Commercial street with the purpose in view of robbing the same. Col. Godfrey Prouse, one of the proprietors, resisted and was murdered in cold blood. Lynch was shot but not badly wounded and both he and King were arrested and convicted of murder. King managed to get out of the state prison. Lynch made an attempt to escape but was captured. His death sentence was commuted to life imprisonment and he is made an attempt to escape but was captured. His death sentence was commuted to life imprisonment and he is now an inmate of the Utah state prison. About one year ago Georgie Burton, a woman of the town, was chased up the street by her infuriated lover, shot to death, and he then committed suicide. About two years ago a negro named Harry Wilson was shot by a colored man known as "Dirty" Thomas. Wilson died at the hospital shortly after the shooting.

On the morning of Sept. 10, Dave Logan, said to be a "hop-head" negro, shot and instantly killed another colored man named Dick Hawkins.

In addition to these crimes, there have been robberles, attempted murders, vicious assaults and thefts too numerous to mention.

It was on Commercial street that Joe Sullivan and Joe Garcia planned the robbery of the Albany bar. In carrying out their crime they committed a greater one by murdering in cold blood a brave and faithful guardian of the public peace, Patrolman Charles S. Ford.

RENDEZVOUS OF CROOKS.

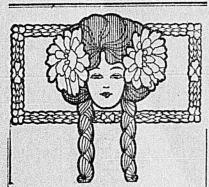

RENDEZVOUS OF CROOKS.

The street has been a rendezvous for criminals of all classes. Highwaymen, thugs, porch climbers, pickpockets, bunko men, sneak thieves and all classes plan their offenses against soclasses plan their offenses against so-ciety in dens on the street and rush there for a hiding place when officers of the law are on their track. Young girls have been lured there and ruined. Boys have been taught all manner of vice and many of the crimes can be traced to the habit of opium smoking. Occasionally the police have raided hop joints, but the croows usually escaped punishment. As long as this class of joints, but the croows usually escaped punishment. As long as this class of undesirables are permitted to ply their nefarious trades just so long will hop joints and other crime centers exist, and just so long will there be murders, suicides, robberles and other crimes committed, and the only way to put a stop to it is to run the thieves cut of fown.

STREET CAR COMPANY SUED.

Mrs. Brimhall Traces Misfortune to a Careless Motorman.

The damage suit of Sarah A. Brimhall against the Utah Light & Railway company is on trial before Judge Ritchie and a jury in the district court today. The plaintiff is suing to recover damages in the sum of $20,100, for injuries alleged to have been sustained by her on the night of May 2 last. She was riding on a Waterloo car which she claims was overcrowded with passengers. She wished to alight at Ninth South and Fourth East, but was unable to make her way from where she stood in the car to the rear. Going to the front of the car, she told the motorman where she wanted to get off, but as a fire was raging in he neighboorhood the motorman heedlessly and negligently brought the car to a sudden stop, throwing plaintiff to the ground so for-ernacle last night a good sized audience assembled to greet the newly organized Salt Lake Choral society; in fact the attendance was surprisingly good, considering the plethora of music we have had of late. No doubt many of those in attendance were conference arrivals. Who came too late for the Elsteddfod, but there were also many Salt Lakers and tourists in the audience and from one and all went up a verdict of high pleasure at the program provided. longer than it should have been, no encores were allowed, and the coming artists were kept treading on the heels of the going artists, in a fashion that was very pleasing, and might well be copied in future Tabernacle events.

A large part of the program was made up of the recent prize winners, the principal attention being attracted to the society itself, which gave the two numbers "Sylvia" and "The Challenge of Thor" in beautiful fashion, the effect rather being heightened by the division of the voices after the style of the Denver chorus, the male voices on the two ends, instead of being massed together. The prize winners, Miss Edna Evans, soprano, Mr. Halsett, baritone, Mr. Andrews, violinist, the ladies quartet, consisting of Mrs. Kirkman, Mrs. Sanders, Mrs. Vaness and Mrs. Wise, the ladies' chorus, in "The Bells of Aberdovey," Miss Barnes contralto, Mr. Summerhays tenor, Miss Mae Hawley, pianist, and Mr. Houghton, baritone, were all rewarded with some big bursts of applause. Additional numbers were furnished by Mr. Briness, whose big round tone was heard to fine advantage in the tenor solo from Elijah, and by Mr. McClellan, who gave three organ numbers, was tempestuously applauded and made to bow his acknowledgements. The familiar Andantino, "To My Wife," was especially exquisite in the closing movement; the stop employed in the opening seemed somewhat loud for a really tender effect. The trio for violin, organ and piano, rendered by Messrs, Welhe, McClellan and Kimball, was the acme of soulfulness. Mr. Robinson's sweet baritone voice was given fine chance in the Elijah number and he too had a warm welcome. Mr. Welhe has few things in his repertoire that he does better than the enchanting Faust Fantasia, and he had one of the occasions of the night. His playing was generally fine, but a strict adjudications would say that he has done some of the intricate parts with greater accuracy. Mr. McClellan conducted, as well as sharing in the accompaniments, the other accompanists being Mrs. Sanborne and Mr. Kimba

It is no ordinary, regular meeting, to act upon any ordinary item of business which might come up in a routine manner, but to confer together for the purpose of arriving at a conclusion as to the conduct of one James W. Wilson secretary of the company. Mr. Wilson left town a few days ago, and at the present writing nobody connected with the company knows where he is.

It has not been ascertained that Mr.

It has not been ascertained that Mr. Wilson left any irregularity in his accounts with the company which he was instrumental in organizing, and which includes such men as W. S. McCornick in its directorate, and Col, N. W. Clayton as its president, but the fact that the secretary has disappeared without leaving any definite idea as to where he was going and how long he would stay, is causing some little anxiety among the stockholders of the company.

Wilson left a note in the office of the company, at 14 West Third South street, Saturday morning, saying he was leaving town to purchase some machinery for the new plant the company proposed to erect here, and on Wednesday morning a letter which had been malled from Ogden was received at the offices of the company, in which wilson asked an assistant to keep the matters of the company in order until he shead a return and saying he would return and saying he would return and saying he would Investigation at the hotel where Wilson had been stopping, revealed the fact that his trunk and all his belonging had been packed up and taken away, and it was further found that Wilson's account with a local bank had been closed up. The board of directors decided that the exigency of the situation demanded action, and a meeting was consequently called and convened in the offices of the Inland Crystal Salt company at noon today.

wilson claimed to be a "briquette expert" from St. Louis, where he said he had organized a company similar to the Sait Lake organization during the world's fair. The officers of the company state that the company will not be affected by the departure of the secretary. Of the $250,000 capital stock of the company, about $50,000 had been subscribed by local capitalists.

George W. Holmberg, a director of the company, said this afternoon that the only thing accomplished at the meeting this morning was to ascertain that Mr. Wilson had been disposing of some of his own stock—further than that, no new facts were brought out. Mr. Holmberg also declared that in no way will the disappearance of Wilson affect the status of the company. He declares their working force is at work and that every movement will be forward. The offices of the company are open as usual, and will continue so, says Mr. Holmberg.

BEVERIDGE ON MONDAY FEDERAL AID FOR MERCHANT MARINE

The first big campaign rally in Salt Transmississippi Congress Combe given by the Republicans, following mittee on Resolutions Makes in Provo, upon the occasion of notifying Strong Plea for It.

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

Hon, Thomas F. Walsh of Denver President-Hon. John H. Smith, a Vice President.

San Francisco, Oct. 8.—Previous to the opening of the third day's session of the transmississippi congress today the delegates were entertained by an excursion about the harbor, the trip having been abandoned last Monday having been abandoned last Monday owing to the length of time required by the Colorado delegation at the presentation of a silver service to the cruiser Colorado. The delegates are greatly impressed by the extensive coast defense work the government is doing about this city and were given an epportunity to inspect the numerous pests where the big guns are located. The committee on resolutions which began its deliberations yesterday has whipped the mass of matter referred to it into shape and has adopted for presentation to the congress a strong presentation to the congress a strong plea for federal aid for the merchant marine. This resolution was put before the committee by the Hawaiian deleine committee by the Hawalian dele-gation and as first considered affected only the Pacific; but the committee widened its scope to take in the At-lantic as well. The resolution declares the present condition of the merchant marine to be dangerous to the military and commercial strength of the coun-try and pledges the members of the Transmississipal congresss to work for Transmississippi congresss to work for the passage of a measure in the na-tional Congress liberally providing for the expansion of the country's maritime trade.
